WALKBOSTON

www.walkboston.org

See Boston with new eyes, with the help of WalkBoston, which provides an impressive list of organized walks. Do-it-yourselfers should also check out the “maps” section, which offers annotated, easily printed maps organized by neighborhood and themes. AIA Conventioneers with a yen for nostalgia can even find a map for the 2.8-mile walk to the old Hynes Convention Center.

UNIVERSAL HUB

www.universalhub.com

Behind closed doors, Boston’s bloggers are busy people. You are, too, which is why Universal Hub is here, harvesting the day’s most intriguing, infuriating, infuriated, and just plain goofy entries and publishing them in one convenient place, so you can stay on top of the real news.

THE CREATIVE ECONOMY

www.creativeeconomy.org

The Creative Economy is an initiative of the New England Foundation for the Arts, which serves as a clearinghouse and a sponsor of research and programs to promote creative enterprises as economic generators.

LEMELSON CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF INNOVATION AND INVENTION

<http://invention.smithsonian.org>

Videos, virtual exhibitions, articles, events, and research promoting the culture of innovation — you have to admit, it’s an inventive idea.

ARTS & ARCHITECTURE

www.artsandarchitecture.com

Once upon a time, Arts & Architecture magazine was one of the most influential voices in the Modern Movement in America. Based in Los Angeles, and the sponsor of the famed Case Study Houses, A&A featured architects such as Neutra, Schindler, Eames, Koenig, Ellwood, and Lautner; Herbert Matter designed its covers. Now PDFs of the Case Study Houses are online.

CONGRESS FOR THE NEW URBANISM

www.cnu.org

Way back at the founding of the Congress for the New Urbanism in 1993, the New Urbanism — a reinvention of the old urbanism — was still, well, new. Now we have a generation of young planners who have never known anything else, and what was new is old. Again.

RETRO JUNK

www.retrojunk.com

“Your memory machine” — for memories mostly of the 1980s, and the ultimate proof that not everything old deserves to be new again.

We’re always looking for intriguing websites — however novel the connection to architecture. Send your candidates to: epadjen@architects.org.
