BSA's 10th Annual Gingerbread Design Competition and Exhibition features edible explorations of home and housing.

Boston (December 16, 2021)— The BSA is excited to announce its 10th annual Gingerbread Design Competition & Exhibition. The exhibition is taking place in a hybrid format, featuring physical and virtual submissions from December 2–December 21, 2021. This year's competition theme "Home Sweet Home," invited participants to explore ideas of home, housing, and domesticity. The theme complements the recently launched exhibition, Imaginations of Home, which focuses on housing models that are centered on ideas of affordability, sustainability, and accessibility.

We are pleased to announce this year's Gingerbread Competition winners:

- Golden Whisk Award for most amount of money raised and the Golden Spatula Award for most number of contributions goes to "G.B. Triple-D" by MASS Architect
- Golden Rolling Pin Award for Judges' Choice goes to "Winter in the Blue Hills" by LDa Architects
- People's Choice Award for most number of likes on Facebook goes to "The Saint Ginger of Bread Feast" by Arrowstreet
- Young Designers Award goes to "Brother and Sister Houses" by Winn (age 4) and Violet (age 7)
- Inspiring Collaboration Award goes to "Gingerbread Hanok" by Studio Luz Architects
- Most Realistic Award goes to "Hut Haus" by Hutker Architects

All entries were judged by the following panel of experts:

- Dinara Kasko, Pastry Chef and Owner of Jonquils Cafe & Bakery
- Ray Demers, Senior Director, Design Leadership at Enterprise Community Partners
- Wandy Pascoal NOMA, Housing Innovation Design Fellow at the Housing Innovation Lab and Boston Society for Architecture

The Gingerbread Design competition is a fun and tasty way to highlight great works of edible architecture while also raising funds for the BSA. We are pleased to announce that we raised a total of $7,053 during this year's exhibition. These funds will help support the ongoing work of the BSA.
