Page: Project Narrative

Conceal or omit all references to the architecture firm or architect on all materials submitted. Including these references may disqualify your submission.

Describe the story of both the design and the impact process (including team engagement), including concepts and considerations, as well as lessons learned, addressing at least one impact advancement concentration, if the project qualifies.

Your project narrative should be 250 words maximum and the same as the one you use in your digital project boards. This is the narrative that will introduce your project to the jurors, who have limited time with each project.

- Social Advancement – demonstrating a commitment to social progress
 - Community Engagement – an entire community and/or stakeholders are substantially involved and engaged in the decision-making processes, and community involvement has influenced project outcomes.
 - Community Benefit – project addresses a need(s) and demonstrates benefit(s) to the community.
 - Economic Disparity – architecture or the design process has reduced disparities in the economics of the larger community or individuals served by the project.
 - Health Outcomes – project improves health, safety, or well-being outcomes for the larger community or individuals served by the project.
 - Educational Inequity – project addresses inequities in our education system and those that increase the social responsibility of education.
- Technical Advancement – exploring new technologies and/or their architectural applications
 - Technical aspects of building design, including engineering achievements
 - Technology that greatly improved collaboration, innovation, and creativity
 - Technology that resulted in improved economic, environmental, or social outcomes of the project
- Environmental Advancement – demonstrating a commitment to environmentally sensitive design, sustainability and/or energy/resources conservation
 - Excellence in demonstrating ecological stewardship, including reduced environmental impact and reduced energy consumption, as well as attention to quality of life issues, resiliency, and community engagement within the environment.
 - Demonstrating efforts to reduce energy use in occupancy of the building.
 - Innovative solutions reducing embodied energy/carbon use in the building’s design and construction.

Please upload your project description as a .doc or .docx file.

A Design Jury will evaluate your project based on this digital project boards and project narrative. As submissions are subject to varying degrees of opportunity, constraint, and budget, each entry is judged for the success with which it has met its individual requirements. It is therefore important that submissions convey to the jury a full understanding of the project, including Impact Advancements that drive the values of good design.

In general, we encourage precise and focus on the big picture impact, including program requirements, sustainability goals, and design solutions.

Note: Jurors have a limited amount of time with each submission, so please format accordingly.

Do not include information identifying your firm in any materials outside of those designed to collect it. If any of the information provided to the juries explicitly identifies the firm, your submission will be disqualified.

The portfolio should:

- Be uploaded as a PDF
- No more than 3 20" x 20" digital boards – as one pdf
- Orientation can be either horizontal or vertical
- Be no larger than 25 MB
- File name no longer than 60 characters (with spacing)
- File naming: ProjectName_01.pdf
- Include diagrams, site plans, details, photographs with minimal captions (no firm names mentioned)
- First board must be a title page with Project name (this may include images and other text)
- Project narrative should be included within the boards (250 words max)
- Do not include the project category
- If the project is a restoration or adaptive reuse project, include at least one image that describes conditions before work began

Page: AIA Framework for Design Excellence/Common App + Technical Review

The BSA believes that innovation in the build environment is key to tackling the greatest challenges facing Boston, including the increasing threat of climate change. In recognition of the new ways architects are designing sustainable spaces, the BSA has incorporated the AIA Framework for Design Excellence, which includes metrics for evaluating how projects respond to the urgency of climate change and promote sustainability, reduce carbon emissions, and promote healthy communities.

BSA Design Awards follows the AIA's Framework for Design Excellence criteria using the Common App. Submittals are encouraged to highlight project performance through narratives and metrics in the Common App.

While not required, Unbuilt Design & Planning projects may want to incorporate potential measures within narratives and/or portfolio for consideration

Suggested questions for each measure can be found here

We encourage all submitters to review the Common App with the design teams responsible for the project prior to drafting their Design Awards submission and assess which of the ten measures are relevant to the project.

What is the purpose of the Common App?

The Common App is the embodiment of the Framework for Design Excellence's values in the AIA Design Awards process. Since 2019, the AIA—at the national, state, and local levels—has started to integrate the Common App into Design Awards programming.
